HOW TO DESIGN AND DELIVER A GREAT ONLINE TRAINING SESSION

SUPPORTING YOUR JOURNEY TO VIRTUAL EXCELLENCE

QUANTUMRISE Talent Group

We find that many trainers and tutors access around 20% of the available techniques and technology for great online design and delivery.

The Quantum Rise methodology is to design exclusively for the virtual learning world, whilst embedding a new mindset and skillset which includes using external websites, rotational whiteboards, polling sites and immersive activities.

This drives knowledge retention up to 65%, alongside learner motivation and progression, on learning programmes and qualifications, as the learning is applicable, practical, creative and engaging.

Our certified facilitators will provide you with the tools you need to create and deliver amazing online training.

This programme introduces you to all the key aspects of great online design and delivery and offers you the opportunity to practice what you've learnt in a safe environment.

The programme consists of 3 modules and a total of 6 hours which provides the perfect opportunity for those who are new, or those who wish to add more tips and tools to their virtual practice, and get some expert feedback from certified virtual facilitators.

It's perfect for groups of trainers and tutors who wish to build on self-taught practice and are looking to wow their attendees with new tech, confidence and skill.

DRIVING ENGAGEMENT, CREATIVITY AND INTERACTION

By the end of the session you will be able to drive up your online teaching and training by:

1. Using a range of tools to help increase the engagement, creativity and interaction in online virtual classrooms.
2. Planning and designing more effective and engaging virtual sessions and meetings.
3. Presenting and applying newly acquired skills and receive feedback on your online practice.
4. Harnassing specific feedback and development opportunities, for continuous professional development.

module 1 MAXIMISING YOUR ONLINE ENGAGEMENT

This is a comprehensive, interactive module which takes you through each of the engagement tools and gives you an opportunity to increase engagement, creativity and interaction when delivering online sessions.

module 2 DESIGNING YOUR ONLINE SESSION

This module focusses on the core design principles for an effective, engaging, outcome driven live online training session, including visuals, slide design, virtual considerations and integrating media, all underpinned by the principles which increase knowledge recall.

module 3 MICROTEACH AND FEEDBACK

You will get the chance to deliver a short session and receive expert feedback on your content, skill and delivery from an expert, certified online facilitator.

PROGRAMME OUTLINE

At Genius People we had proudly adopted a blended teaching style to make sure our delivery model met the needs of our learners, but we knew we wanted to work with specialists to take it to the next level.

The Quantum Rise virtual learning programme was practical and interactive straight from the off and provided our team everything needed to design and deliver great remote teaching and training.

During our recent Ofsted visit we were proud to show the inspectors recordings of our sessions, sharing what we'd learnt and the impact the new skills had on our apprentices – they were hugely impressed!
